

About Penny Central

A free, community-driven guide for finding $0.01 clearance items at Home Depot.

Penny Central is a community-driven guide for finding clearance items marked to $0.01 at Home Depot stores. This resource was created by and for members of the Home Depot One Cent Items Facebook group, which has grown to over 36,000 members.

This guide covers the clearance lifecycle, digital scouting tools, in-store strategies, checkout procedures, and community best practices. Everything you need to understand how penny items work and how to find them effectively.

How This Site is Supported

Penny Central is completely free. No ads, no paywalls, no premium tiers. Running this site comes with real costs: hosting, domain, development time, and ongoing maintenance. Here's how you can help:

Use BeFrugal for Cashback

Leave a Tip

Penny Central is a passion project that costs real money to run: hosting, domain, ongoing development and maintenance. If this site has helped you score deals, consider buying me a coffee.

- ✓ Keeps the site running
- ✓ Funds new features
- ✓ No ads, no paywalls, ever

How This Site Stays Free

I cover the cost of the site, tools, and updates myself. There are no paywalls or hidden "gotchas."

To keep everything free long term, there are two totally optional ways to support the project:

- A cashback site and app called BeFrugal that pays you when you shop online and sends me a one time referral bonus if you actually use it and earn at least $10 in cashback
- A PayPal tip jar for people who feel like the guides and tools saved them serious time or money

None of this is required. All the penny item info and guides work with or without it. If you want the full breakdown of how cashback works, how long it takes, and what the catches are, you can read the full explanation here:

Support the Site (Optional)

Keeping this site running, testing deals, and building new tools takes time and money.

If you want to support the project without paying anything extra, you can:

- Turn on free cashback with BeFrugal before you check out at stores like Home Depot, Lowe's, Sam's Club, Amazon, and more
- Toss a small tip into the PayPal coffee fund if the guides saved you serious time or money

BeFrugal does not show or unlock penny items. Penny items are in store only. This is just a quiet way to get a bit back on the normal stuff you are already buying.
